DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

The drawings are objected to because they contained crossed out foreign reference numbers and characters. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 13 and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cross in view of the Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (APA). Cross discloses a controlled dispersion speaker configuration comprising a driver 12, front baffle board 10, rear baffle board 22 and spacers 24. The driver is mounted on the first major surface of the first baffle board such that the first baffle board is disposed between the driver and the second baffle board (see figure 1). Cross does not disclose a spherical vibrator. Applicant discloses a conventional loudspeaker comprising a spherical vibrator 2 in figure 5 as prior art. It was suggested by Cross to use the configuration to minimize the effect of side and rear sound radiation and produce a stable forward directional sound pattern. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use the configuration for the conventional vibrator disclosed in the APA for the purpose of providing an improved spherical loudspeaker. Claim 13 is met. As to claims 15-22, the relationship between the specific resonance frequencies of the baffle boards, the relationship of the resonance frequencies of the baffle boards and the space between them, and the relationship of the natural resonant frequency of the vibrator to the resonance frequencies of the baffle boards and the space are all variables that one of ordinary skill in the art would have explored when configuring the invention of Cross with a spherical vibrator. It would have been obvious that all the specifically claimed relative amounts of one variable to another variable would have been realized without undue experimentation and used as appropriate functioning loudspeakers in applicable environments.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-12 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2644

Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
